Business Policy
Public

Approved by: Andrea Gatti, CEO

Environmental, Health, Safety and Quality
(EHSQ) Policy
Revision 1

OSTP's business is based on fundamental principles which we will not compromise. These are

- To have a sustainable growth in quality welded tubular products and process equipment.
- To take full responsibility for health & safety and environmental matters affecting the business.
- Our commitment to corporate responsibility, continuous improvement of EHSQ performance and compliance with legislation everywhere we operate.

OSTP commitment statements:

Health & Safety

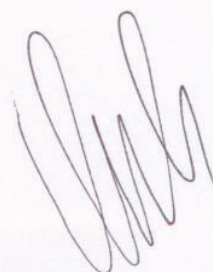

Safety first - everyone, every time, everywhere! Safety takes priority over all other activities. We are all responsible for our own safety, but also for the safety of our colleagues and all visitors to our premises. We strongly believe that all injuries can be prevented. OSTP's work on environment and occupational health activities help to promote the wellbeing of our employees and prevent occupational diseases. Occupational health services satisfy the requirements of national legislation, generally accepted practices and scientific studies.

Quality

The quality of our products and services is the key to satisfy our customers and fulfill their expectations. We all contribute to this commitment with our knowledge, experience and competence, together with our customer engagement.

Sustainability and Environmental awareness

Our business is based on sustainable development - our products are valuable for customers and society and are totally recyclable. We strive to lower or prevent emissions and waste. We are proactive in developing innovative solutions in products, processes, energy and material efficiency to help reduce the impact on the environment.

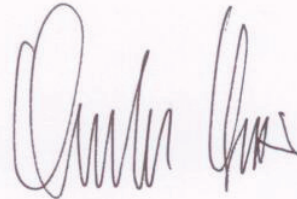

Actions to ensure compliance with this policy

- We communicate openly about our significant aspects affecting quality, safety, health and environment.
- We develop, implement and maintain our management systems, certified to international quality, safety, health and environmental standards (ISO 9001, ISO 14001, OHSAS 18001), to support our business needs.
- We plan, execute and sustain our business activities in line with the management systems and EHSQ manual. We establish and review objectives and monitor, audit and report regularly on our progress.
- The ISO 26000 standard (Guidance on Social Responsibility) provides guidelines for our decisions and actions.
